From the President

Jean and I wish everyone a healthy and safe Holiday Season and a prosperous New Year, 2025. The Éire Philatelic Association will be celebrating 75 years young during 2025 and we are planning a very big birthday party at the Saint Louis Stamp Expo during March 21 to 23, 2025. There will be over 48 Irish and USA exhibits from members of the ÉPA and Irish Brigade. This is one of the largest assemblies of exhibits from Ireland for many years. Several ÉPA members from Ireland and North America will be coming to the show and we will have our own ÉPA dinner on Friday night. We will have our Annual General Meeting on Saturday with presentations on Irish Philately on both Friday and Saturday. We will have a second Celebration at STAMPA 2025 during October in Dublin.

A promotion card for the St. Louis EXPO should be inside your copy of the Winter Revealer. There is a special room rate for the hotel shown on the card – so PLEASE book your room early. You should also have a one of the two Souvenir cards for our 75th Celebration, a second card will go out with the Spring Revealer. Members receiving digital only Revealers will receive their cards through the mail – provided that you have paid your 2025 dues by December 10, 2024.

Many Thanks to Bill O'Connor, Michael O'Reilly and John Sharkey who designed the 75th Anniversary Souvenir Card and to Teresa Haney at Minuteman Press who printed the card. The second card going out in the Spring was generously prepared and donated by An Post. We are most grateful to Aileen Mooney, Anne O'Neill, David Mulholland and Brona McDonagh for supplying the card with an imprint of the Ireland / USA relationship stamp which makes the card post free from Ireland to anywhere in the world.

I would thank Steven Friedenthal for our Revealers. It is becoming an increasing challenge to fill the pages without support from ÉPA members by sending in articles. The articles can be as simple as a scan of an interesting cover / stamp / document and a brief paragraph about what makes it exciting to you. Two or three articles from members can fill 2 or more pages.

Now for House Keeping:

We are at a point where postage and printing costs will be having a negative impact on the ÉPA finances. Michael O'Reilly with the ÉPA auction, manages to slow the financial strain on the Association, but inflation has hit us hard. The ÉPA Board of Directors discussed two options at our meeting in September:

- (a) Raise our annual dues by $5 to $10 for 2026;
- (b) Cut the number of issues of the Revealer to three per year similar the Irish Philately and Die Harfe journals. Three issues of The Revealer would allow Steven more time to receive articles and possibly expand the Revealer to 28 pages or more. The change would come in 2026.

We need to hear from members about which choice they would prefer – But unless we receive more articles Option b is the obvious choice. Email your thoughts to me at rmercer01@aol.com.

We thank all our members who have paid their 2025 dues and a special souvenir card was mailed to members from STAMPA who made an extra contribution to the ÉPA. BUT, we still have members who have not paid their 2025 dues – making life difficult for Jean who has to chase you for payment. Members who have not paid by December 1st will be switched to digital only for Winter Revealer and dropped if not Paid by March 1 2025. Again, Happy Holiday greetings AND See You in St. Louis March 21 to 23 2025
Robert and Jean Benninghoff

Notes

(1) The Irish Brigade is an enthusiastic group of 12 plus Irish and American exhibitors that have been exhibiting at various shows around the USA and Europe for the past 8 years. The brigade typically brings 20 to 24 frames of material covering all aspect of philately.

The Irish Brigade INDYPEX awards were presented by Robert Benninghoff and Michael O'Reilly at a special ceremony during the STAMPA Awards Banquet, Saturday evening October 12. Robert and Michael also Presented the Éire Philatelic Association Presidents awards.

(2) The Éire Philatelic Association is dedicated to promoting and expanding the Hobby of Irish Philately. Our Association is based in the USA but has members from around the world. The ÉPA will be celebrating 75 years at The St. Louis Stamp Show in March 21 to 23 2025 with the Association's Annual General Meeting. The Irish Brigade should have over 35 frames of material at the show.

(3) Stephen Ferguson's Book Miniature Masterpieces was reviewed in the Autumn Revealer by Micheal O'Reilly. Steven received a STAMPA Gold Medal for his book and the Federation of Philatelic Societies of Ireland Medal for service.

2024 Annual General Meeting of the Éire Philatelic Association October 5, 2024

Minutes

Our AMG was held via Zoom starting at 11:00 at EDT. The meeting was called to order by President Bob Benninghoff at 11:03 am EDT. Bob thanked all of the staff and officers of the ÉPA who keep this fine organization functioning.

Our AGM had 21 in attendance. The first order of business was a moment of silence for one departed ÉPA member:

John Lorenzen (member 2218)

The Secretary determined that a quorum was present and the Minutes of our last AGM (October 21, 2023) were approved. The Secretary indicated that the ÉPA membership is currently 250 members, down from 268 at the end of our last fiscal year, due to resignations and non-payment of dues. A tax forms were filed at the Federal level for the fiscal year 2023. We are now registered in the state of New Jersey as a non-profit 501 c 3 corporation. Our secretary will be the EPA representative and Bill O'Connor was thanked for his many years of service as our CA representative. Election results were announced for 2024-2026. Bob Benninghoff was elected president, Mike Canavan and Brian Warren as vice-presidents, and directors Brian Callan, Philip Kane, Richard Kelly, Ray Murphy, Michael O'Reilly, and Tim O'Shea. These members were thanked for their service. Phil Kane has taken on the job of webmaster and he was thanked for taking on this responsibility. The secretary reported on the commemorative souvenir items that are under preparation for our 75th anniversary in 2025. The cost for these items will be covered by an anonymous generous donation from one of our members. The secretary showed the three commemorative items that will be used for our anniversary in 2025. Two of these items will be included with the Winter 2024-25 and March 2025 issues of The Revealer. We have several informational articles on how to dispose of one's Irish collection (contact the secretary at jsharkeyepa@me.com). Members are encouraged to use our auction where members can buy and sell items at a very reasonable fee. The auction is our main source of funding that keeps our fine association in good financial shape.

Treasurer's Report – Robert Benninghoff (for Jean Benninghoff)

The past 12 months find the ÉPA in positive financial shape, largely due to the hard work of our auction manager Michael O'Reilly and the EPA auctions which have added $4600 to our bank account. We also received $405 in member donations (down from $2273 last year). These combined funds contributed greatly to our net income of $4190 (compared to $6697 in 2023). A STAMPA souvenir will be given to all members who send a contribution to the ÉPA for contributions received before Dec. 1, 2024. Membership dues are down about $1500 from 2021 with several members opting for digital only membership at $20 rather than $30 ($35 for non-USA). The biggest expense is the printing and mailing of The Revealer which cost $7862 last year, an increase of $1200 due to higher postage and printing costs. These costs may necessitate a small increase in dues starting in Fall 2025. The treasurer's report will be published in the Winter 2024-25 issue of The Revealer.

Auction Manager's Report – Michael O'Reilly

The report for September 1, 2023 through August 31, 2024 (auctions 212 – 215) reported that there were 19 consignors, 58 member bidders and an average of 540 lots per auction. There was a total of $2390 commission from sale of lots and $2215 from sale of donate material, for a total of $4600 net benefit to the ÉPA. Sales price realized was average of 122% of reserve price, although most sell at the reserve. Michael thanked the estate of Barney Clancy, that donated considerable material to our auction. Michael was thanked for the many duties associated with this job: verification of the stamps, preparation of the auction pages, correspondence with members, outbid notification, scans of lots, etc. Please consider selling or donating your duplicate material to the auction. Contact the auction manager at AuctionManagerEPA@gmail.com.

Webmaster Report – John Sharkey and Philip Kane

Philip started as ÉPA webmaster during the summer 2024, and has already made significant improvements to the site, including the resolution of problems associated with member log in.

Phil will work with our secretary to fix remaining problems, and to create a members-only area of the site. Phil reported that the site needs to be updated to include more timely news. The site is not particularly easy to get around and takes multiple clicks to get where one wants to go. We also need more images. We aim to make the site more informative and easier to get around; something of great importance to our aging members. Phil was again thanked for taking on the job.

Editor of The Revealer Report – Robert Benninghoff for Steven Friedenthal

Again, for the 2023-24 fiscal year Steve published four issues of The Revealer, each containing 24 pages. He welcomes all articles on Irish philately, that range from “folksy” to seriously researched, thus hoping to appeal to a wide audience of collectors and those interested in Irish and Irish-related philately. The editor expressed his need for more member articles, especially as we look forward to our 75th anniversary in 2025. In view of increasing printing and postage costs, as well as the need for more articles, the Board may consider going to three issues per year. The total number of pages would remain the same but would hopefully result in lower overall costs. Member input on this issue will be solicited by our president in a future issue of the Revealer.

Vice-President for North America Report – Michael Canavan

Committees were formed to consider recipients for the Brian Warren Award (formerly the Vincent A. Linnell Award), the William A. O’Connor Award (formerly the John J. Clark Award), and the David J. Brennan Award (formerly the Thomas E. Field Memorial Award).

Director Brennan presented the David J. Brennan Award to secretary John Sharkey “in recognition of his outstanding contribution to the area of Irish philately”. He mentioned that John is the ÉPA’s longest-serving secretary. The William A. O’Connor Award was presented to Steven Friedenthal, editor of The Revealer in recognition of his outstanding service to the Éire Philatelic Association. Steve has been our editor starting with the Winter 2018-2019 issue. He has continued the excellent work of our long line of editors, most recently Liam Malone, in producing an outstanding journal for our members and being the public voice of the ÉPA. The Brian Warren Award, for the best article in The Revealer, to John Lush and Paul Skinner for their three-part article;

“Irish Provisional Government and Free State Overprints on UK Adhesive Fiscal Stamps”. The President’s Award will be presented by our president at this year’s STAMPA.

Youth Coordinator and Advertising Manager Report – Richard Kelly

We continue to run all of the traditional ads and picked one up from David Feldman. Looking to next year we are losing two long-term advertisers, Roy Hamilton Bowen and Andy Ballard, due to their retirement as dealers. No real activity as youth coordinator with no stamp packs sent out. There is a decreasing demand for youth tables at most stamp shows. There is still interest in stamp supplies such as hinges, stock sheets, albums etc.

Future AGMs – John Sharkey

The 2025 AGM will be held in person and via Zoom on Saturday, March 22, 2025, 11:00 am CT in conjunction with the St. Louis Stamp Expo. This will be the official anniversary meeting of the ÉPA. A second celebration is planned for STAMPA 2025, October 10-12, 2025.

Old Business - Membership

There was no old business brought to the meeting.

New Business – Membership

President Benninghoff brought up the problems associated with continuing to publish four issues of The Revealer each year. The editor continues to mention the need for more articles by members. It is not desirable to reprint articles that have already been published in other journals. In addition, postal rates and printing costs have increased and will continue to increase. Finally, there is concern about declining membership. There seems to be two options, increase our dues structure or publish only three issues of The Revealer each year. Although our dues are lower than the dues of the IPC, there is concern that we may lose more members. The IPC has gone to three issues per year without a loss of membership. Of the choice, more were in favor of three issues per year. If we keep the four issues per year we will be forced to raise our dues. The auction manager says that we have enough material for four auctions per year and he can arrange for three print + electronic auctions and one electronic only auction each year. Please send your opinions to our president.

Boston 2026 World Expo – David Brennan suggested that the president appoint a committee to start planning for the EPAs participation at Boston 2026 World Expo. The EPA has already committed to share a table with the IPC and FAI. The Federation of Philatelic Societies of Ireland has already pledged $1000 and the EPA Irish Brigade, $500 for the cost of our participation. If you would like to volunteer for this committee, please let our president know.

Meeting adjourned at 12:05 pm.

Following the business meeting, a Power Point presentation entitled “An Introduction to Irish Philately” was presented by Robert Benninghoff, Brian Callan, Karl Winkelmann and Brian Warren. Our thanks to these members for a wonderful presentation.

The Great Hunger 1845-1852

Tim Carey

The Great Hunger was a period of starvation and disease in Ireland from 1845 to 1852. It constituted a historical social crisis which subsequently had a major impact on Irish society and history. The most severely affected areas were in the west and south of Ireland, where the Irish language was dominant. The worst year of the period was 1847, which became known as "Black '47". During the Great Hunger, roughly a million people died, and many fled the country. This caused the country's population to fall by 20–25% (in some towns falling as much as 67%) between 1841 and 1871. Between 1845 and 1855, at least 2.1 million people left Ireland, primarily on packet ships—one of the greatest exoduses from a single island in history.

Folded letter: Londonderry, Ireland to New York City, February 7th, 1849. Letter posted and marked "PAID AT DERRY" (Londonderry).

The above is a letter addressed to Abraham Bell and Sons, New York City. Bell and Sons was a merchant shipping firm that specialized in the export of Southern cotton to the British Isles. The Bell family were Quakers and often traded with companies in Ireland, Liverpool, and other parts of England. In the 1840's the Bell's helped transport thousands of immigrants from Ireland.

This letter was carried on the fourth and final Cunard mail voyage to the U.S. during the six-week period when pre-retaliatory rates were resumed before the U.S.-G.B. postal convention became effective. One shilling paid for the single packet rate. Postage due in New York was 6 cents, the incoming ship letter rate to port regardless of the weight of the letter.

Carried aboard the ship Europa, British and North American Royal Mail Steam Packet Company (Cunard Line), departed Liverpool February 10th, 1849, and arrived in New York City February 24th, 1849.

British to Irish Postal Stationary Transition (1922 to 1927) Part 2

Postal Orders

The only items of British postal stationery to be overprinted by the new Irish postal authorities were the postal orders. The inscription British Postal Order was in all cases overprinted in green with POST ÓRDÚ ÉIREANN (Irish Postal Order), both on the face of the Postal Order and on the counterfoil. The cost of the overprinting was borne by the new Irish postal authority and the orders were accepted for payment in Ireland and Great Britain within three calendar months of the last day of the month issued. Postal orders could be extended in value using the adhesive stamps which were valid for use at time of issue, up to the normal value of five additional pence. The initial overprints had no overprint of the Kings Head (Figure 13) which resulted in significant public complaint. This was quickly followed by a similar overprinted postal order but with the overprint of the King's head, using a four line green REALTAS SEALADACH NA H'ÉIREANN (Irish Provisional Government) overprint (Figure 14). The overprint of the King's head was replaced on 6 December 1922 on the formation of the Irish Free State (Figure 15) with a three line green SAORSTÁT ÉIREANN 1922 (Irish Free State). The first Irish Free State postal orders were issued in September 1927, the design of which included the iconic harp national emblem surrounded by the inscription SAORSTÁT ÉIREANN and the issue of all overprinted British postal orders came to an end in January 1928.

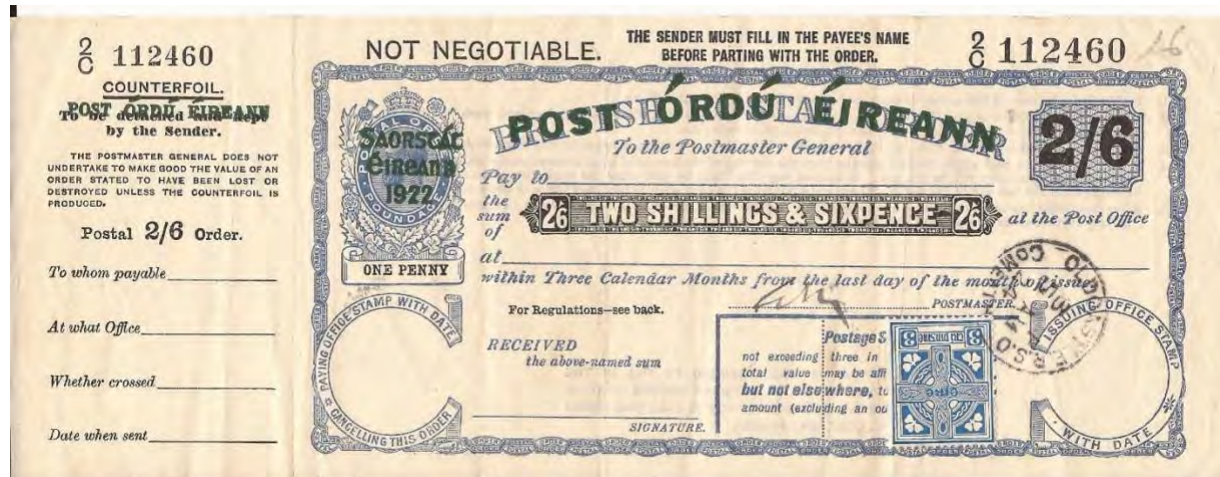

Figure 16. 2/6 blue KGV postal order with British Postal Order overprinted with green Irish Postal Order. This issue had the Irish Free State overprint of the King's head, issued 5 August 1924 at Oldcastle, with the post office name now appearing in Gaelic. Postal Order extended with new Irish 3d Celtic Cross adhesive stamp.

End of Transition Period

The Transition Period for postal stationery greatly exceeded that for adhesive stamps and generally extended to late 1924 for postal items and January 1928 for postal orders. During this Transition Period, the post office handstamps with English town names were replaced with corresponding names in Gaelic (Figures 15 and 16), another milestone for the new State. At this point the Irish Free State had issued its own postal stationery, all based on the iconic harp (Figure 3), which was to last until 1983 when the Irish Post Office was privatised as a commercial entity and the iconic harp series was replaced.

Enhancing your Collection through Varieties & Errors

Michael O'Reilly

Many collectors choose to enhance their collecting interest with stamp varieties & errors. Philatelic literature has numerous definitions for these terms, many of which overlap.

A stamp Variety can be described as a stamp that differs from the regular issue in some way. This could include a stamp with different perforations or watermark embossing.

A stamp Error is often defined as an unintentional mistake which occurs during the production process. Examples include printing errors such as missing colors or letters, or design errors such as the wrong person depicted on a stamp.

EFO's (Errors, Freaks & Oddities) is a common term often used to sub divide stamp errors. In this case, an Error is defined as a major mistake that is repeatable and can for example, be aligned to a particular plate position. Another example of an error might be an inverted overprint.

A Freak is often defined as an abnormal, usually nonrepetitive occurrence in the production process that then results in a variation from the normal stamp. Most paper folds, over inking and perforation shifts are regarded as Freaks. Another example might be a stamp where the overprint lettering is incomplete due to an inking flaw.

Oddities are examples that don't fit in the other two categories. Examples include stamps where the perforations were made for one format, such as coils, but then the stamps were actually used in booklets, so it looks like a mis-perforation whereas it really isn't.

Regardless of your definition preference (and any two stamp collectors will likely have differing opinions), collecting, researching & understanding the cause of the stamp errors or varieties can add considerable enjoyment to one's collecting interest. Most of the specialist Irish Stamp catalogues (Hibernian & Stanley Gibbons for example) reference stamp varieties & errors in one section. They seldom list errors which are not repeatable. Stamp errors often command a considerable price premium compared to regular issues, based upon their scarcity & collector interest.

Examples of well documented errors from the early commemorative issues are featured in this article. Fig 1 shows two documented errors from Ireland's first commemorative issue, the 1929 O'Connell. These are described in detail in an article published in the Jan-Feb 1958 edition of "The Revealer".

From this article, the ‘retouch’ error designated as C1a in the Hibernian catalogue, occurs on the 12th stamp of the 15th row of plate 1. According to the author, the damage to the plate was caused a day or two prior to the first printing, by a workman dropping a hammer or screwdriver on the plate, breaking the “Jubilee” lines. Since it would take about two weeks for a fresh plate to be remade in London, repairs were made by retouching the plate and were completed by a jeweler in Dublin. This “retouched” plate was used for the first printing and was thereafter either discarded or replaced. Hence the error is listed as “N/C” or “not constant” in the catalogues. The “retouch” is visible in a thickening of the right hand inner vertical frame line, and the two oval outer lines which enclose the central portrait from above the value “2” tablet on the right hand side to about the level of the last “c” in the word “gCatoiliceac”.

A second error designated as C1c in the Hibernian catalogue, is the so called “bullet hole.” According to the same Revealer article, this has been described as a small white circle above the left eye of O’Connell and is thought to have been caused by a foreign object on the plate during the earlier printing runs.

Examples of errors from other early commemorative issues are described in figures 2 to 6.

Studying, researching & collecting stamp errors can add significantly to the enjoyment of the hobby beyond the mere task of “accumulating” stamp issues. It encourages one to review the body of knowledge that has already been completed for a particular stamp – a task that is made easier by leveraging online resources, such as those produced by the specialist Irish philatelic organizations (EPA, IPC or FAI), researching auction catalogues, or examining the stock from dealers or from online auctions. One could collaborate with other collectors and perhaps as part of the research, potentially discover a new stamp variety. I have included at the end of this article, a number of the sources that I used when researching some of the errors featured in this article.

Aughrim, County Galway July 1691

Robert Benninghoff

Jean and I came across highway signs for the Battle of Aughrim when travelling from Athlone to Ennis in June 2024 (Figure 1). The name was familiar to me from 1914 era Unionist postcards found in several of my Irish History exhibits (Figure 2), but I had never stopped to explore the significance of this small County Galway village to the outcome of the 1690s Williamite Wars (Figure 3). We detoured off the main highway and stopped in at the Battle of Aughrim Visitors Center to find a well laid out display of the history of the period, the battlefield and the chronology of the battle (12 July 1691) (Figures 4 to 6).

Fig 1: Irish Tourist Board Map of County Galway shows Aughrim located in the eastern part of the county.

On the 1st of July 1690, William defeated James at the Battle of the Boyne. This was the biggest battle in Irish history, involving about 60,000 men. James fled back to France, while his Jacobite army retreated west of the Shannon river. The Jacobite army beat back an attack on Limerick. Disappointed, William now left Ireland, putting a Dutchman named Ginkel in charge of his army.

Fig. 2 Unionist Postcard printed in 1914 marking Williamite victories at Derry, Aughrim & the Boyne.

The following year, 1691, King Louis sent one of his generals, Saint Ruth, to command the Jacobite army. Ginkel pushed across the Shannon at Athlone and marched west.

On the 12th of July 1691, Ginkel found a Jacobite army waiting for him on a long ridge south of Aughrim village.

It was not the biggest battle in Irish history but it probably was the bloodiest, leaving up to 4,000 dead and dying on the battlefield.

A Game of Thrones

James Stuart (James II) became king of England, Scotland and Ireland in 1685. He was a Catholic which worried many of his Protestant subjects. They knew however that James's daughter Mary, was a Protestant and would become Queen when James died.

Mary was married to James' nephew, William of Orange, a Protestant prince, and ruler of the Netherlands (the United Provinces).

William III was looking forward to his wife becoming Queen as he would get extra money, men and ships. This would help with his rivalry against his troublesome neighbour Louis XIV, the 'Sun-King' of France.

James II

William III & Mary II (Stuart)

William's hopes were dashed on the 10th June 1688 when James' second wife (also called Mary) gave birth to a baby boy who would be next in line for the throne.

William's supporters spread the story that the boy was not really James' son. They said that Jesuit priests had smuggled a miller's baby into the room, hidden in a warming pan.

William landed in England, supposedly to investigate if the baby was the true heir. He brought a large army with him to 'assist' in his investigation.

Many of James' Protestant subjects welcomed William. Fearing for his life, James fled to France for help from Louis XIV, who was also a Catholic.

William now held two of his uncle's kingdoms, England and Scotland but Ireland was still controlled by James' fellow Catholics.

◆ Ireland takes up the Jacobite Cause ◆

The Catholic revival under Tyrconnell made Irish Protestants increasingly apprehensive. They welcomed the 'Glorious Revolution' in England. In Ulster, where they were most heavily concentrated, both Derry and Enniskillen refused admission to Catholic soldiers and soon declared their allegiance to William and Mary.

King James disembarked at Kinsale in County Cork on 12 March 1689. He hoped that Ireland would be a stepping stone to the recovery of the English throne. But to secure Irish support he had first to summon a largely Catholic 'patriot parliament' in Dublin which repealed the restoration land settlement, and tried to undo the wholesale confiscation of Irish property which had occurred under Oliver Cromwell.

Louis XIV's navy was strong. In 1689-91 he sent eight convoys to Ireland, with officers, troops and military supplies in large quantities. Without this support the Jacobite army could not have fought the war. The interception of a French convoy by the English navy in 1689 led to the inconclusive battle of Bantry Bay, the largest sea-fight ever to occur in Irish waters.

The closing of the gates of Derry, preventing Lord Antrim's Catholic garrison entering into the City

Fig 6: Most of Ireland embraced the wrong side of European History. The Ulster Protestants sided with King William III (Williamites). Most of the Irish Roman Catholics supported King James II (Jacobites). Display plaque found inside the Visitor Center.

We spent over 2 hours walking through the Visitors Center and Museum learning that this was the largest and bloodiest battle ever fought in Ireland. The Jacobites (led by French General Saint Ruth) held the high ground and stopped the Williamite attacks (led by Dutch General Ginkel) for much of the day. It appeared the Jacobites would win the battle until their commanding General, Saint Ruth was decapitated by a cannon ball. The ensuing chaos saw Ginkel's armies outflank the Jacobites and with "Much ungodly slaughter that followed" his armies won the battle which effectively ended the war in Ireland and reshaped much of Irish history for the next 250 years (Figures 7 to 10) (2).

Ireland issued two stamps on 5 April 1990 marking the 300 Anniversary of the Williamite Wars. One Stamp shows the Battle of the Boyne and the other the Siege of Limerick (Figure 11). I am not aware of any Stamps issued by EIRE or Northern Ireland showing the Battle of Aughrim. My Challenge to our readers is to find any mail or documents relating to this battle or the Williamite Wars.

We were able to make our own Postal History during our visit as shown below courtesy of Valerie in Valerie's Pub in Aughrim (Figure 11) who had a series of hand cancels marking the battle.

Ireland and reshaped much of Irish history for the next 250 years (Figures 7 to 10) (2).

Figs. 7 & 8 (right and below)

Plaques inside the Visitor Center discuss the Battle and its aftermath.

The 'War of the Kings' was an important European war, a British royal family dispute and an Irish Catholic struggle for religious freedom. The wider European war ended in stalemate with the Treaty of Ryswick in 1697. The outcome finished James II, when Louis XIV reluctantly recognised William III as king of Great Britain.

Louis had failed to restore James but he had distracted William from the war on the continent at a low cost.

The 'Lamentation of Aughrim' by Thomas Moore provides a good example of how Catholic and nationalist Ireland remembered Aughrim in song.

'Forget not the field where they perish'd,
The trust, the last of the brave,
All gone— and the bright hope they cherish'd
Gone with them, and quench'd in their graves!

Louis XIV

The loss was made all the more bitter because it could so easily have gone the other way. Folklore blames, the shepherd O'Kelly, who it is said, pointed Saint Ruth out to the Williamite gunner and Henry Luttrell who supposedly gave up the fight and allowed the Jacobite army to be outflanked.

In 1752, Britain and Ireland switched from the Julian calendar to the more accurate Gregorian calendar. This dropped eleven days from the calendar. So in that year, Wednesday September 2 was followed by Thursday September 14.

The anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne on 1st July (Julian) is now celebrated on 12th July (Gregorian).

By the end of the century the 'twelfth' was associated with the Boyne, rather than Aughrim. The Orange Order commemorates William or 'King Billy' who was present at the Boyne.

The twelfth celebrations continue in Northern Ireland and some of the marches and other displays irritate the nationalist community there.

While Aughrim is not as vividly remembered as the Boyne, the battle had more lasting and serious consequences in Irish history.

Fig. 9 Souvenir brochure, Page 18 discusses History of Ireland following the Williamite Wars.

◆ An End to the Hostilities ◆

After Aughrim, the war came quickly to an end. Within a few weeks Galway surrendered. In September in Limerick, Patrick Sarsfield negotiated an agreement with Baron von Ginkel. It was signed on 3 October 1691. It was a treaty of surrender which allowed Jacobite forces to go to France and tried to get religious toleration for Irish Catholics. It sought to protect their property and their lives. It failed in its intention, for William III, under pressure from Parliament, failed to deliver on the Treaty's commitments. The end of the war began an era of anti-Catholic legislation and the memory of 'the broken Treaty of Limerick' was etched in Irish minds. The Wild Geese, as Irish soldiers abroad became known, were to carry this bitter memory with them onto many a European battlefield while they fought in foreign armies against England throughout the eighteenth century.

Fig.10. Postcard shows The Treaty Stone Located across the Shannon River from King John's Castle in Limerick.

General Patrick Sarsfield signed a Treaty with General Ginkel on 3 October 1691 in Limerick ending the Williamite Wars in Ireland which allowed the Irish and French Jacobite troops to leave for France.

The Treaty was recorded on the stone shown in the Postcard.
